WHO HAS ACCESS TO MY PERSONAL DATA?

Axens adheres to the Privacy by Design principles defined by the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and tries to limit access to personal data as much as possible, in order to ensure that each person, whether an Axens employee or a third party within the company, who can access your data really needs to do so in order to perform their duties.

The main recipient of your personal data are Axens' commercial, accounting and financial, purchasing, HR, communications, marketing departments and IT. The legal and internal control departments also have access to some personal data in the exercise of their missions, as well as the company's statutory auditors. In the course of its business, Axens may also transfer some of your personal data to companies within its group.

In addition, some third parties who provide services to Axens may have access to some of your data, solely to enable Axens to process the data for the purposes indicated to you:

- For payments;
- For travel planning services;
- For some services: like emailing or online survey;
- For hosting data stored by Axens;
- For the reception of visitors and the security of our premises.

Please note that this list of recipients is not exhaustive and is subject to regular changes, depending on legislative development and Axens' contractual policy.

HOW LONG DOES AXENS KEEP MY DATA?

The length of time Axens keeps your data depends on the purpose of their processing. In accordance with the principle of Privacy by Default, Axens tries to minimize the duration of data retention and undertakes to erase or archive them (on separate media and with very limited access) as soon as they are no longer necessary for the processing in question.

You will find below a summary table of the retention periods applicable to each kind of data before their erasure or archiving, according to the main purposes of the processing operations carried out by Axens:

6 months after the event	Clothing size, food preferences, spouse's name, IP address
2 years after the completion of the study	Market studies
3 years after the last contact by the customer	Customer relationship management
4 years after the event	Organization of Events (participant contact details, visa information, photo)
10 years after the end of the contract	Customer/supplier contract management

ARE MY DATA TRANSFERRED OUTSIDE THE EUROPEAN UNION?

Axens and its data processors may need to transfer your data outside the European Union in order to process it. Together with all the companies of its group, Axens has set up a Data Transfer Agreement based on the standard clauses issued by the European Commission, to ensure that any company in the Axens group that imports your data outside the European Union complies with the principles of the General Data Protection Regulation. When concluding contracts with its data processors, Axens takes particular care to ensure that they only transfer your data outside the European Union (or countries whose level of protection has been recognized as equivalent) if this transfer is made under binding company rules, data transfer agreements in accordance with European Commission decisions or other mechanisms that may be defined by the authorities in charge of personal data protection. You can obtain a copy of the mechanisms put in place to ensure the security of the transfer of your data abroad by contacting our Data Protection Officer at the address indicated below.

WHAT SECURITY MEASURES ARE IMPLEMENTED BY AXENS TO PROTECT MY PERSONAL DATA?

Access to the data and recorded information you have provided us with is protected by passwords and access to these passwords is limited. Firewall technology is used to prevent unauthorized access and servers are backed up daily, via archives stored in a secure location.

Laptops allocated to Axens employees are encrypted so that the data they contain cannot be used by third parties in the event of theft.

WHAT ARE MY RIGHTS TO MY PERSONAL DATA?

In accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation, you have the following rights regarding your personal data processed by Axens:

- Obtain a copy of your data;
- Obtain the rectification of inaccurate data, as well as, when appropriate, the completion of such data if the data are incomplete for the purpose of the processing;
- Obtain the erasure of your data if they are no longer necessary for the purpose for which they were collected, if you withdraw your consent (where consent is the legal basis for the processing operation), if the data have been unlawfully processed or if such erasure is necessary to comply with a legal obligation to which Axens is subject;
- Obtain the restriction of the processing if (i) you contest the accuracy of the data (pending verification of accuracy), (ii) the processing is unlawful without this limitation and you do not wish to oppose this processing, (iii) Axens no longer needs this data for the purposes of the processing but it is necessary for the establishment, defense or exercise of legal rights;
- Receive your data in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format for their transmission to another controller, if the processing operation is based on your consent, is necessary for the performance of your employment contract or is carried out using automated processes;
- File a complaint before the CNIL, the French Data Protection Authority.

You also have the right to determine the fate of your data after your death.

If you wish to exercise these rights, you may contact Axens' Data Protection Officer at the following email address: dpo@axens.net.
